Volunteer Opportunities

A database of community volunteers who enjoy the arts is maintained by ArtsCorpsDetroit (ACD). Volunteers need no formal training, though they will undergo a brief orientation prior to assisting with a project or program. ACD volunteers have the opportunity to be a part of a community, to meet a diverse range of people, and to develop new skills, interests, and hobbies. It can spur their motivation and sense of achievement, boost career options, and indicate their passions to friends, family, and colleagues. Volunteers will be enlisted as needed, based upon their interests and availability.

The online Volunteer Application form can be found here.
