2011 MFA Thesis Exhibition

DETROIT (Dec. 23, 2011) – Wayne State University’s Art Department Gallery presents 2012 MFA Thesis Exhibition featuring Timothy Wells Householder, from Friday, January 13 through Friday, February 10, 2012.

Householder is an installation artist and photographer completing his Masters of Fine Arts degree at Wayne State. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree at Denison University, Granville, OH, and an Associate in Applied Science degree at Washtenaw Community College, Ann Arbor, MI where he is a part-time photography instructor.

Householder is a Michigan-based artist who has created temporary site-specific installations on the campus of Wayne State University, was a featured artist at the Chalk and Chocolate Tour in Royal Oak, Michigan, and created works for multiple Site:Lab events in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Householder has an installation on permanent loan to the Blandford Nature Center in Grand Rapids.

In addition, Householder has exhibited his photographs at multiple venues in the Ann Arbor area and works with The Olimpias, an international collaborative of artists focusing on disability culture awareness.

All events are free and open to the public. The Art Department Gallery is located in the Community Arts Building on the campus of Wayne State University, just west of the intersection of Cass Avenue and Kirby Street.

The James Pearson Duffy Department of Art and Art History is a division of Wayne State’s College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts, educating the next generation of visual artists, designers and art historians. Wayne State University, located in the heart of Detroit’s midtown cultural center, is a premier urban research university offering more than 400 academic programs through 13 schools and colleges to nearly 32,000 students.
