Wayne State University’s James Pearson Duffy Department of Art and Art History is pleased to present 2013 WSU MFA Thesis Exhibition from February 22 through April 5, 2013. At the completion of their Master of Fine Arts degree programs at Wayne State University, Belair, Henderson, Morris, Morsello, Smalls, and Thrift exhibit work that serves as a summation of their graduate experiences.

Special programming for the exhibition coincides with Third Thursday, organized by Art Detroit Now, which includes 25 Detroit art galleries, boutiques and cafes that will stay open until 9pm, with programs and activities on the third Thursday of every month.

During Third Thursday, on February 21, our department’s graduate studios will be open to the public from 5-9PM. The studios are located across from the Elaine L. Jacob Gallery. Along with studio visits, guests will be able to preview the 2013 WSU MFA Thesis Exhibition. The exhibition’s opening reception is on Friday, February 22 at 5PM.

The James Pearson Duffy Department of Art and Art History is a division of Wayne State’s College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts, educating the next generation of visual artists, designers and art historians. Wayne State University, located in the heart of Detroit’s midtown cultural center, is a premier urban research university offering more than 350 academic programs through 13 schools and colleges to more than 31,000 students.
