2014 Wayne State University Undergraduate Exhibition

The James Pearson Duffy Department of Art & Art History is pleased to announce Scope, Wayne State University's Undergraduate Exhibition at the Art Department Gallery, April 18 through May 16. This exhibition features work by undergraduate students from each of the department's fourteen disciplines.

Scope features a wide range of approaches from which students derive their inspiration, ideas, and creations. The exhibition represents processes of looking close and looking far through various mediums and concepts; considering how and where final works of art are presented and perceived. Scope is a collection of works exhibited in a meaningful way at their highest regard.

The opening reception will be held on Friday, April 18, from 5:00 to 8:00PM and will include the 2014 WSU Scholarship Awards presentation at 6:30PM. Awards will also be given to students for their outstanding fine art, design, and foundation works in the exhibition.

Scope has been organized by the following students from the department's Gallery Internship Course: Jessica Artt, Evan Condron, Ashley Nivison, Gerald Schulze, Dylan Schutter, Katie Welch, and Crysta Zgorski.

The James Pearson Duffy Department of Art and Art History is a division of Wayne State's College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts, educating the next generation of visual artists, designers and art historians. Wayne State University, located in the heart of Detroit's midtown cultural center, is a premier urban research university offering more than 350 academic programs through 13 schools and colleges to more than 31,000 students.
